PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Full Stack Developer with over 1 year of experience in comprehensive digital solutions. During my time in the Brazilian Army, I worked directly in the IT department of the Military Organization, where I led teams and implemented improvements that ensured maximum operational efficiency and security. I was responsible for managing complex projects, ranging from the maintenance of critical equipment to the training of professionals.

My dedication to turning challenges into scalable solutions resulted in more robust and efficient systems. My ability to seamlessly integrate front-end and back-end reflects my passion for creating functional digital products that consistently exceed expectations.
